A friend in need is a friend indeed and that what you have been to me. I hope it will continue to be this way for years to come. We really had a ball this year especially in Geography talking over your problems. I hope you will have much happiness in the future. May all your dreams come true. I hate to see you to go this year. May we continue to be friends for years to come and centuries too. A Friend to the End

The Making Of A High School

We are architects of Fate,

Working in these walls of Time. . .

For the structure that we raise,

Time is with materials filled;

Our todays and yesterdays

Are the blocks with which we build.

Truly shape and fashion these;

Leave no yawning gaps between;

Think not, because no man sees,

Such things will remain unseen.

Let us do our work well,

Both the unseen and the seen. . .

Else our lives are incomplete,

Standing in these walls of Time,

Broken stairways where the feet

Stumble, as they seek to climb.

Build today, then, strong and sure,

With a firm and ample base;

And ascending and secure

Shall tomorrow find its place.

—Henry Wadsworth Longfellow

The two million dollar project was completed in late summer, 1968. Totally modern in construction and design, the school was formally dedicated December 8, 1968.

The dedication ceremony was held that sunny Sunday in the auditorium (gold-carpeted, but minus the stage curtains, which were to arrive later in the school year.) Many prominent leaders in the field of education were in attendance. The speakers delivered remarks concerning the goals of our educational system and the American Youth.

Student Council President, Pete Eller, spoke for the students concerning the significance of the new school. The chorus and drama classes presented a program with songs and a choral reading.

Western inherited many things from old Guilford High . . . its principal, many teachers, and most of the student body. But for the most part, everything was new. For the first time your sixth period English class could be interrupted by the buzz of a telephone. And who could ever forget the faultless air conditioning system . . . especially in December.

The students of Western are as colorful as the varied aspects of school life. The composite of many personalities merged into an esprit de corps that exemplified the WGHS spirit.

first days were exciting

and confusing

Amid the usual confusion of any opening day, Western Guilford High School was born on August 28, 1968. Friends were reunited after a summer's separation. New friendships grew along with the maturity of Western's students.

The football game, August 30, commenced Western's first football season. The contest resulted in a one point Hornet victory.

Homecoming soon followed. Classes competed in the annual float contest. Float meetings usually turned into float parties, but many hours of hard work went into the class masterpieces.

Editor's Notes

The editor's note usually appear at the end of the book. Since the duty of preparing the opening section traditionally falls upon the editor, I felt they would be more appropriate here.

These notes are supposed to be the space in which I think those who have contributed their efforts to the '69 Amici. But when I consider the hard labor and overtime put into this volume, a simple "Thank you" hardly seems enough.

Even before school opened work was begun on the yearbook. Financing is always half of the battle and our ad territory included all of Guilford County. It's sometimes very difficult to persuade the ad manager of a cross-county hardware store how an ad in the Western Guilford High School ("Where's that?") yearbook is going to boost his business.

And then there was the actual construction of the book. To Al McKeithan and Dwight Jessup a big thank you for all those last minute lay outs you drew. Thank you, Bill Isley for your photography assistance. So much depended on your skill and you have not disappointed us.

Thank you, Mr. Max Ward and Jane Linker of Delmar for your patience and professional aid in your dealings with our staff.

To Mr. Walters and Faculty for your understanding and assistance especially on those hectic picture days, thank you.

And to you, Miss Bishop whose skill and guidance helped us all to retain our sanity, a very sincere thank you.

You didn't even hollar at us for missing our deadline. What more could an editor ask for?

It has been a pleasure and an honor to be the editor of Western Guilford High School's first Amici.

In Grateful Recognition . . .

To single out one individual to whom this book should be dedicated was extremely difficult. Many faculty members, administrative officers, and friends of our community have played an important part in the making of our high school and we are thankful for their dedication.

As a teacher he is a stern disciplinarian. His high ideals have inspired his students to do that which they are capable of accomplishing. He remembers that students are more important than facts.

As a bus supervisor he has handled the tremendous responsibility of that job every day of school.

As an assistant principal he has ably aided Mr. Walters and the staff. The aspects of this job are as varied and versatile as the man who assumes the responsibility.

A regular face around Guilford School, Ed Carroll enrolled in 1943 for 12 years. He then attended Guilford College and returned to Guilford High School in 1959 to teach junior high Language Arts. Three years ago he stepped up to the position of Assistant Principal. Last year he taught language arts and this year he teaches math.

Because of the many things he has done for us, his "wit and wisdom" that have made him unique, we gratefully dedicate Western Guilford's first yearbook, the 1969 Amici, to Mr. Edwin Bailey Carroll.

Administration Lays

Mr. H. C. Walters, Principal of Western Guilford High School.

Managing Western Guilford High School is a very demanding task requiring time, patience, perseverance, and imagination. Our faculty and administration possess all of these qualities in abundance.

A new high school with many new problems faced the administration on August 30, 1968 and each problem was solved with tact and efficiency. Mr. Walters, our principal, provided a listening ear amidst the confusion and chaos confronting each student in his new surroundings.

It is to the credit of the administration and faculty that our school is progressing to build a new future while not forgetting the past.

The friendly office staff who never stopped smiling during the continuous interruptions which prevailed throughout the first months of the school year 1968 were Mrs. Williamson and Mrs. Middleton. Their cheerful attitudes helped each student who entered the office conquer their fears of entering a new school.

Office Staff prepares for hectic day with friendly smiles.

Boys' State

Each year hundreds of high school students converge on the campus of Wake Forest University in Winston-Salem, North Carolina. Their purpose is to learn about the structure and function of our state government and at the same time have some fun. According to Pete and Randy both purposes were accomplished.

BOYS STATE: Pete Eller and Randy Hobbs.

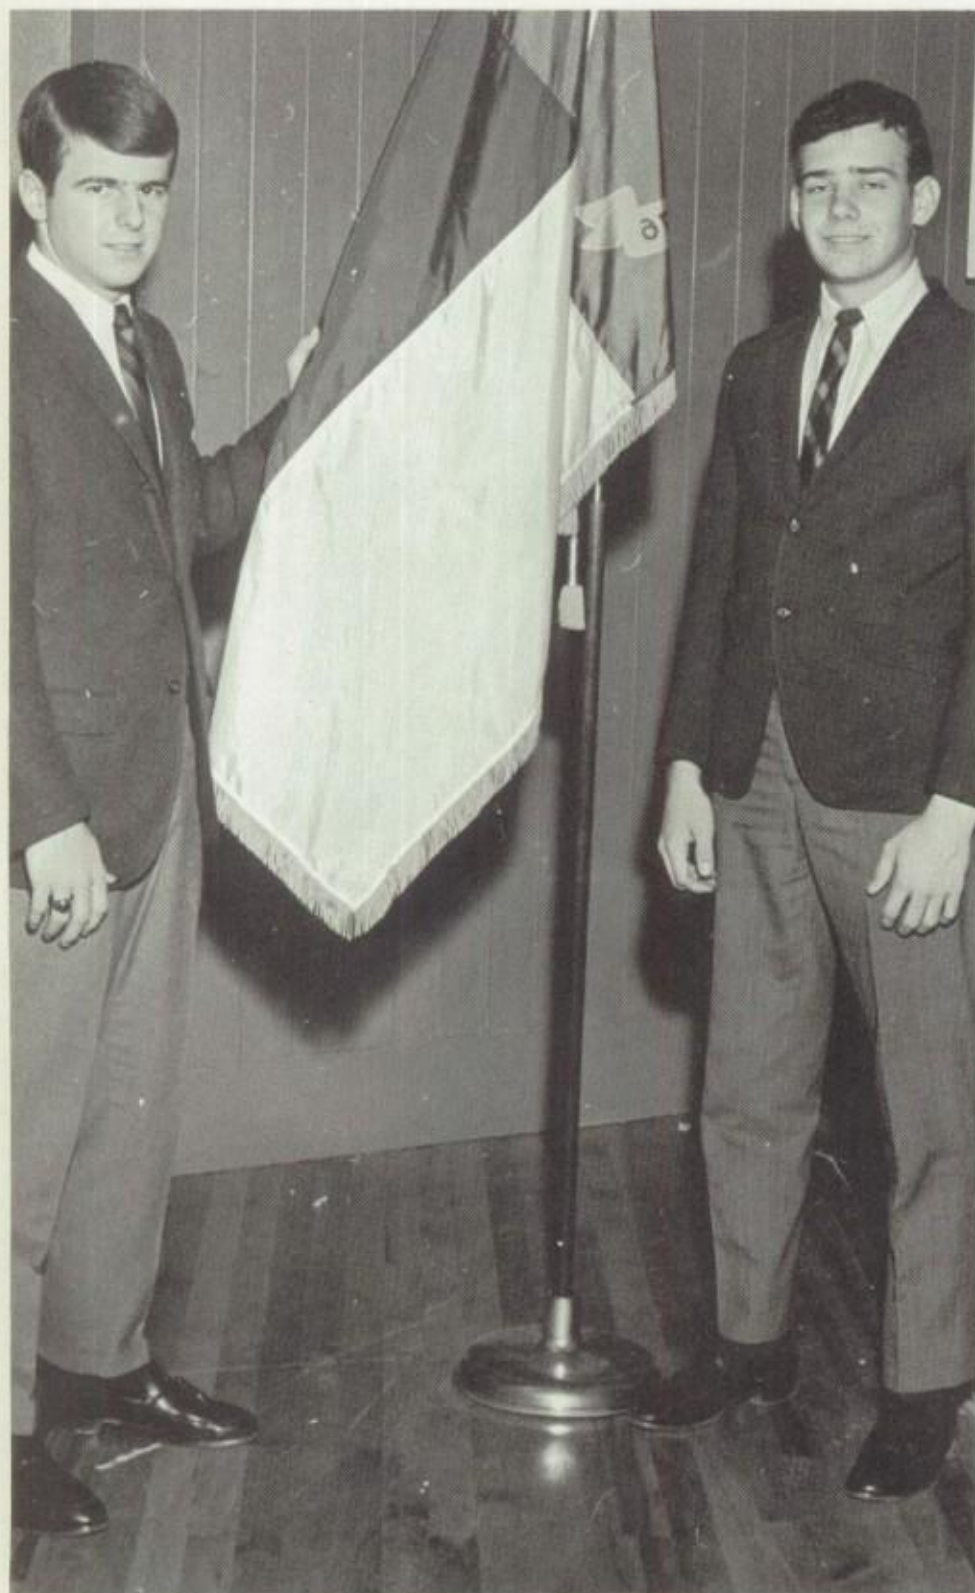

MOREHEAD SCHOLARSHIP: Bill Isley and Pete Eller.

The Morehead Award is a grant for undergraduate study leading to a baccalaureate degree which must be obtainable within a normal four year period. Each nominee must show scholastic ability, show qualities of manhood, truthfulness, courage, devotion to duty and fellowship. The Morehead Scholar should be a superior citizen for the undergraduate student body of any college.

FIRST W.G.H.S. AMICI

Western High's first "Amici" was produced by a student staff of twenty-four and the faculty advisor, Miss Carolyn Bishop. Even before school opened, the staff had started work on this year's annual. The summer advertisement campaign accounted for a large part of the funds used in producing the book, along with the Betty Benson Candy Sale sponsored by both the annual and journalism staffs. With a larger student body, a bigger "Amici" was needed. The 1969 "Amici" is wider with an additional sixteen pages over last year's book and the page size has been increased, making better coverage of all school activities possible.

Linda and Joan work on Activities section of the yearbook.

The realm of science was explored by the Western Guilford Science Club this year as its members took field trips, listened to interesting speakers, and held the annual Science Fair. This year, the fair was divided into three sections: Physics, Biology, and Physical Science. This allowed for a widening range of interests among the students. The meetings were held every two weeks under the supervision of Mr. Johnson and Mr. Stewart who served as the Science Club sponsors, and their success was due to the able leadership provided by the officers.

Bill Isley gets a bath!

The Junior Jaycees, sponsored by the Guilford College Jaycees, met bi-monthly this year. At these meetings plans for community service were discussed and made.

The club members sold light bulbs this year. They also sold Holiday Booklets. This book of coupons, worth fifty dollars, was sold for five dollars.

Assistance was given to the Jaycees by the club. The members sold programs at the Miss Greensboro Pageant.

FIRST ROW: Joan Lindley, Lynne Bratton, Joyce Hunter, Patsy Walters, Judy Hinshaw, Anne Robertson, Jeanine Hall, Christy Blevins, Sally Chance.
SECOND ROW: Kathy Kearns, Kathy Baster, Jane Whaley, Allyson Brady, Kathy Blust, Joyce Durham, Janice McIver, Wanda Thomas, Judy Edwards.
THIRD ROW: Barbara Horney, Wanda Oehman, Belinda Beane, Yvonne Watterson, Brenda Jarrard, Barbara Pitoniak, Karen Oehman, Elenor Brong, Elaine Oehman.

The Junior Jaycettes is in its second year as a club. Though newly organized, the Jaycettes have done much to aid the community.

Working with the Guilford College Jaycettes, the Junior Jaycettes sponsored a carnival at Quaker Village Shopping Center. This money, along with proceeds from bake sales, rummage sales, and other events, went to a large brick sign for the new High School.

The Junior Jaycettes worked at the Miss Greensboro pageant, helping as ushers, backstage crews, and helping prepare and serve refreshments.

Recently they bought old school desks and refinished them to give to the children's home for the deaf.

Jaycettes' yearly project for 1968.

Pres. Lynne Bratton; Treas. Patsy Walters; Sec. Anne Robertson; V. Pres. Jeanine Hall; Jr. Director Christy Blevins; Sr. Director Wanda Oehman.

Buses Move the People, Drivers Move the Bus

The Bus Club is comprised of the school bus drivers responsible for the transportation to and from school of many WGHS students. Early each Monday through Friday loyal bus drivers seat to crank up their somewhat undependable vehicles. They start, or don't depending on their moods that particular morning. Any serious difficulties that arise in the operation of the bus fleet require the attention of supervisor Mr. Carroll. The hard working drivers face many difficulties during the course of their service, but somehow Mr. Carroll and his student assistants have cheerfully braved another school year. Congratulations to all of you.

BUS CLUB OFFICERS: President, Bob Troy; Reporter, Wayne Woodard; Vice President, Buddy Hoffman; Secretary-Treasurer, Wanda Oehman.

Western defeats East Davidson.

Friday night, August 30, the Hornets started the new year with a 21-20 victory over Ragsdale. The Hornets dominated the first half, but Ragsdale came in the second to come within a tie.

On September 6, Western Guilford put down Ledford with a final score of 27-0 to complete their second win of the season.

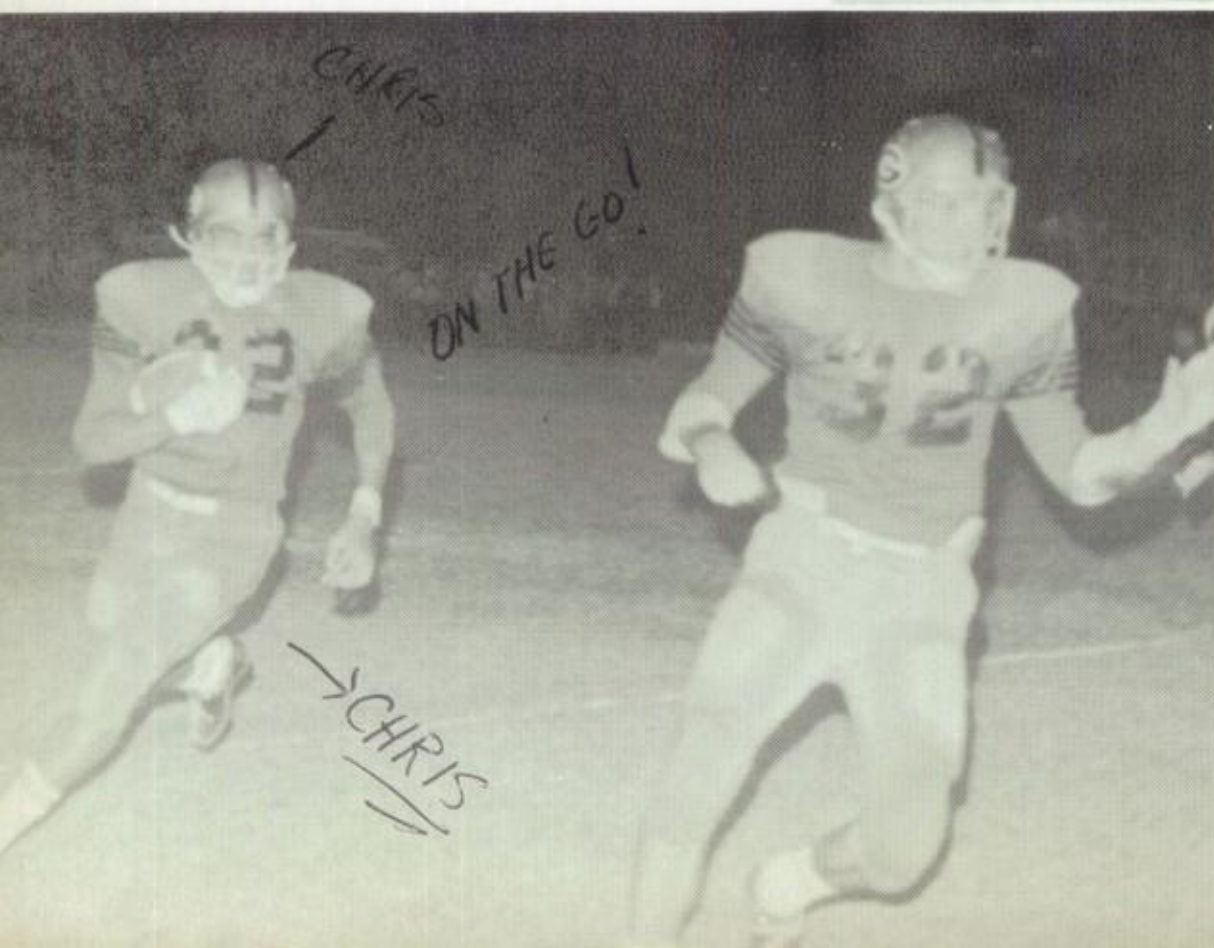

On Friday, the 13th, the mighty Hornets met disaster with a 13-12 defeat from the deadly rivals, Sumner. One extra point made the difference.

A tip-off begins the Hornets' attack.

"Hey! . . . Wait for Me!"

Hornets are 8-2 at Mid-Season

The Western High Hornets returned to the hardwoods on December 6. The '68-'69 team practiced diligently looking forward to a successful season. After losing four players from last year, the Hornets returned with the scoring abilities of senior, Chris Cathey, and juniors, Gary Brown and John Young. The rebounding load fell on the shoulders of returning All-County Wayne Weatherman and Dwight, "the Goose," Tatum, who were aided by Robert Webster and Richard Barefoot.

A newcomer to the squad this year, Dwight Tatum has proven his skillfulness and can always be depended on by Coach Allen Jones to help stiffen the Hornets defense. Boasting a strong bench, any of the reserves can be called upon to put in a good performance. The Hornets started the season strong with eight straight wins before they were beaten by undefeated Randleman. At mid-season the Hornets boasted an 8-2 record and they strove to maintain their position in the conference and capture the conference crown.
